DRIVER OF CAR THAT HIT RICHARDS HAS A CASE PENDING AGAINST HIM

(Crawfordsville Review)
The condition of Mrs. Harry Howard, who was seriously injured on April 23 on the Linden Road when a machine in which she was riding was hit by an automobile driven by Jack Singleton a student at Wabash College and occupied by three other Wabash students and two girls caused the indefinite postponement of the case against Singleton, charging speeding, which was called in city court yesterday morning.

Singleton was the driver of the car which collided with the car driven by R. E. Richards, near Brick Chapel, Thursday night, badly damaging both cars and injuring Singleton and his companion.

DEPAUW AND WABASH IN CLASH ON LOCAL DIAMOND ON TUESDAY

On Tuesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, on McKeen Field, the DePauw and Wabash Base Ball series, will clash in the first game of a series of four, to decide the honor of the base ball championship, of the two rival schools.

The rival institutions have not played many games in either of the four branches of athletics for a period of forty years, that the fight for honors was not hot, and the game next Tuesday, will not be an exception, according to indications from both camps. The only hope to figure the outcome of the contest lies in the relative strength of Rose Poly, and the two rival teams. DePauw won and lost to Rose Poly, and Wabash did the same trick, going to twelve innings to defeat the engineers. Both Wabash and DePauw have lost to Butler, so if DePauw holds its own, the two teams will stage a battle royal, for honors.

With Bills in the box, Davis receiving, Lauer, at first, Pruitt, on the key stone sack, Darnell, at third, Captain Jordan, at short and Clark, Krum-heuer and Adams in the garden, the Little Giants, will have to do some tall stepping to cop the victory.

The Tigers left today, by auto to invade the camp of "Pat" Page's But lerites, and the expressions on their faces meant more than the words they spoke when they said they were going to win.

Having lost to the Pagemen, early in the season 9 to 0, the Tiger's will try to redeem themselves. The team was working in a machine like manner, in a practice game with the "rookies", Friday afternoon, being able to play along with them, doing whatever they cared to.

IMPROVED HOME MADE RADIO RECEIVING SET

The radio amateur may now construct a satisfactory 2-circuit receiving set with variable coupler, doing most of the work at home at but a slight expense says the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce. This set, which will be described in a government publication to be issued within the next few weeks, will have a much greater selectivity than the single-circuit set described and illustrated in Circular 120 of the Bureau of Standards. Most of the equipment which was used in connection with the single-circuit set can be used in the new outfit. This second publication No. 121, will also be a Bureau of Standards Circular and will bear the title "Construction and Operation of a 2-Circuit Receiving Equipment with Crystal Detector." It will be on sale at 5 cents per copy by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., but probably not before the middle of June.

FIND CHICAGO BOMB FACTORY

CHICAGO, May 12.—Late tonight the police announced that they had found what they believed to be a "bomb factory" in an apartment in a quiet residence district. When the place was raided a set of burglar tools, several pistols and a quantity of ammunition were found. A woman and a man declared to be a notorious safeblower were arrested.

The raid was a sequel to the arrest of about 150 lohar leaders, gunmen and bomb men, following the shooting to death of two policemen. "Big Tim" Murphy, "Con" Shea and "Frenchy" Mader and five others were subsequently indicted.

Escape of Jerry Horan, one of those indicted and rumors that confessions had been obtained from some of the men still held by the police were other developments today.

GRAVE THIEVES TAKE GEMS AND SKULLS FROM BURIAL VAULT

BROOKVILLE, Ind., May 12.—The Franklin county grand jury will be called into session at an early date to investigate the theft of skulls from the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Attenborough and jewels from the casket in which Mrs. Attenborough's body was buried in a vault in James cemetery, six miles east of this city. It is believed that the theft took place within the past week. The prosecutor has visited the scene and has begun an investigation.

He believes that he has a clew to the robbery.

Mrs. Attenborough died in 1870 and was buried in a metallic casket. Her husband died two years later and his body was placed in a Walnut casket.

Padlock Placed on Door
When the body of Mrs. Attenborough was buried, all her jewels were placed in the casket with her body. The casket was placed in a brick vault in the cemetery. After the body of her husband was placed in the vault a steel door was fitted to the vault and a padlock was placed on the door.

William Seal and a brother living near Mt. Carmel, the only surviving relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Attenborough discovered a few days ago that the vault had been broken into and that the jewels which were in Mrs. Attenborough's casket and the skulls of both of the bodies had been taken.

G. H. S. BOYS OFF FOR BRAZIL TO FIGHT FOR TRACK HONORS

Arthur Perry, west Washington street, Bayard Allen, who resides north of Greencastle, and Lawrence Tidrick, east Elm street, left this morning at 10:38 o'clock on the Interurban for Brazil, where they will represent Putnam County, in the Sectional High School track and Field Meet, to be held there today. Coach Rhea accompanied the boys.

Perry is Greencastle's best hope. He is entered in the shot put. Tidrick is entered in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes, and Allen in the high jump.

David Hostetter, of Roachdale, was in Greencastle on business, Saturday.

STUDENTS IN RAMPAGE ON THE CAMPUS LAST NIGHT

As is the custom, on the night before a holiday, on the campus, of DePauw University, the male students, of the University in a body of about two hundred, made the rounds of the campus and adjoining neighborhood, last night, making trouble as they went.

Rector Hall, Mansfield hall and Fred Crawford's restaurant were the places that were visited. The night police force, together with the officers of the university, who have police power were kept busy, in an effort to quiet the mob, until a late hour.

At Rector Hall the riot broke out first. Marshall O'Hair and the University officers, were kept busy for several hours keeping the mob out of the halls. The girls in the hall, however seemed to be working against the officers, as the windows which the officers, closed, seemed to be opened as fast as they were closed.

At twelve o'clock the mob dispersed and went to Mansfield Hall, where they proceeded to carry out the same plan, as at Rector. In one instance Officer Bowman, of the DePauw force and a student had a hand to hand battle. This helped to break up the crowd, here, as they broke and went to seek other amusements, soon after.

From there the mob of sleep thieves went to the restaurant of Fred Crawford, opposite the Interurban Station, and threatened to enter the place and eat, but Mr. Crawford locked the door and with the aid of two officers, succeeded in keeping them out for a short time.

With the present number of policemen, Greencastle is not able to handle a mob as the one which was at large last night. They soon made an entrance and the entire mob entered and almost completely wrecked the place.

The rumpus continued throughout the greater part of the night, the number gradually dwindling until, it broke up entirely, early in the morning.

MAY DAY FESTIVITIES START OFF WITH RUSH

SAY, BY THE WAY

Tomorrow is Mother's Day.

A man says, "I will do better tomorrow," and when tomorrow comes he does just about the same.

The most hopeless man in the world is the man who is drifting.

A Health Hint
Cool treatment aggravates a hot temper.

A Daily Reminder
You can never tell by a man's clothes how much he owes his tailor.

We Never Grow Up
The people are much like children. They can be spoiled by having their wants catered to. The new type of congressmen with paternalistic ideas is rapidly spoiling us.

Cokeville, Wyoming, reputed to be a city of bad men, has just elected a woman mayor. She declares she will clean the city of bootleggers. We wonder if a young woman mayor would be a conspicuous success in our own Greencastle.

Prof. Delmar, lion tamer, who is in Brazil this week training his animals for exhibition, wants an assistant. Anyone wanting a lucrative position can see Mr. Delmar, personally.

AUTHORITIES MYSTIFIED BY HORRIBLE MURDER

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 13.—The body of F. Guy Nichols, age thirty-five who disappeared last Monday from his home in Seelyville, was placed across the Interurban track at the old Seelyville park, east of here, last night and was struck by east-bound interurban car No. 37 on the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern traction line. Curtis Brenton, conductor and William Baum, motorman both of Terre Haute, had charge of the car.

Nichols had been murdered several days ago, James L. Fortune, Vigo county coroner, said today. The throat was cut, a large gash extending across the abdomen and a circle had been cut around the left wrist.

No blood was found on the body of clothing, with the exception of a small spot at the bottom of the shirt. The shirt, coat and underwear had not been cut, indicating that the body was dressed after the man had been killed. Recent heavy rains, however might have freed the body and clothing from blood or the body might have been placed in a stream. No indication of the identity of the murderer was obtained by the examination made by the coroner. Nichols' wife has been in poor health several months and the husband has been worrying about her, but no acquaintance knew of any person who would wish to take his life.

The body was identified early today by Mont Tabor, of Seelyville, a friend of Nichols, who has been aiding searching parties since the man disappeared. Nichols had gone for a pail of water and had not been seen or heard of until the body was found.

The conductor of the car and motorman, told the coroner that they saw a man, who was said by them to have first been at least three or four feet from the tracks, move forward on to the tracks as the car approached. The blow by the car had broken one foot and gasped in and and has crushed one side of the skull. The wound in the foot had not bled at all and only a slight amount of blood which was coagulated, came from the head wound.

The authorities are mystified by the unusual conditions surrounding the case. That the man was killed by someone, who afterwards dressed the body, is evident the coroner said.

It was said that every foot of the ground near Seelyville including the locality where the body was found had been thoroughly searched.

ANNUAL EXERCISES HELD ON CAMPUS AT DEPAUW UNIVERSITY BEGIN EARLY—SENIOR BREAKFAST ON EAST CAMPUS— GIRLS FIELD AND TRACK MEET ON MCKEEN FIELD ON MORNING PROGRAM

The Annual May Day Festivities, one of the main attractions on the DePauw University Program, got a good start, Saturday morning. The Senior Class Breakfast at 7:30 o'clock, on the east Campus, near the Sun Dial was the first number on the day's Program.

From there the crowd went to McKee field for the track and field meet, held by the girls of the University. This is an annual affair also, being held on May Day every year.

The crowning of the May Queen, Miss Jeanette Benedict took place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Miss Benedict and her attendants, Miss Ruth Springer, Gladys Warner, Evelyn Wylie, Mary Slipper, Martha Eldridge, Christine Wilson came down the path from the bridge at the top of the hill, into the amphitheatre, preceded by Miss Anna Shute, flower girl. Miss Jane Berth acted as maid of Honor.

The Coronation was performed under a canopy, which was erected for that purpose, in the middle of the amphitheatre. Following that the procession went to one side to witness the winding of the Maypole.

This was done by the Senior girls, Ruth Stone, Dorothy Bard, Alice Watts, Mary Baker, Thelma Cheno-weth, Miss Monroe, Kathryn Daugherty, Helen Wilson, Wava Doty, Ellendore Lampton, Madeline Hixon, Dorothy Ritter, Martha Brookley, Lenore Brackney, Helen Williams, Pauline Morris, Dorothea Tall and Martha Gasaway.

The winding of the May Pole was not as it always has been, with the girls wearing caps and gowns, and wound very slowly, but in the spirit of spring. The girls wore very light dresses, such as denote the spirit of this time of year and the gala occasion. The music, dancing and the winding of the pole took a new aspect, that of Spring.

After the winding of the May Pole the May Day Pageant, "The Heiress of the Age" was given. The cast included over three hundred and fifty girls of the University. Miss Katherine Wilhelm taking the leading part in the pageant. The girls from both the Freshmen and Sophomore Gym Classes took part in the dances and athletic exhibitions.

The pageant was written and produced by Miss Heritage and Miss Bowen, instructors in Physical education, for Women at DePauw. The play is in five parts, the Prologue, the First Second, Third and Fourth Episodes. A large crowd attended the festivities, at Rosa Bower, the natural amphitheatre, being a very fitting place for the occasion.

The weather was ideal and the banks of the hills, that form the walls to the amphitheatre were covered with interested spectators. The acting of Miss Wilhelm as well as that of all the cast was splendid.

Crawfordsville started off with a rush, scoring two runs in the first two frames and one in the fourth, leading 5 to 4. It was then that the G. H. S. boys took the matter into their hands and scored seven runs in the rest of the three innings to a lone tally for the visitors.

About Rabbits.
California produces the finest fur-bearing rabbits in the world. Texas is a close second; Utah and Oklahoma are great producing states. The rabbit thrives upon alfalfa hay and barley. All of these may be had in California 365 days in the year. The ermine rabbit, a close rival of the little white-furred weasel, has been gained by crossing the Russian white rabbit, which has the color, with the Himalaya rabbit, which has the soft under fur, and again with the Angora rabbit, which has the requisite length of coat.

Whipping Ended Romance.
This little episode in my life occurred when I was but six years of age. A neighbor's boy, Jack, and I loved each other. All was settled between us that we should get married and start housekeeping in our coal house, which was not used during the summer. We had to furnish our house first. All went on well until our parents began missing things—dishes, etc. A whipping apace and our romance ended.—Chicago Journal.

No Adulteration Possible There.
There are many odd and interesting sights to be seen in Paris. Some of them would surprise the American boy or girl. In the older sections of the city the milkman goes from door to door, playing his "Pan Pipes" (a bunch of reeds tied together) and followed by his flock of goats, ready to be milked. He stops before the door of each of his "regular customers," who are sure of getting fresh milk.

The Hopeless Search.
Every once in a while we read of a man living in poverty falling heir to millions. And every time we read that sort of a news item we scan the horizon of our family sky in the hope of finding some distant relative who might some day do that thing for us, but always with the same result. If there are any millionaires in our family we haven't located them.

The Wool Combers.
In the Latin quarter of Paris one often sees groups of bareheaded women, sitting in some quiet corner of the street, perhaps within a church door, picking and combing the wool of their mattresses. No matter how poor a French peasant may be, he almost always possesses a comfortable bed with a wool mattress.

Normandy Seaweed.
The Normandy farms near the coast are rich and fertile. They are well tilled and fed with the seaweed that is cast up on the shore. Great carts, drawn by sturdy Normandy horses, pass and repass with their loads of seaweed, which makes a splendid dressing for the farms.

CORNWALL LAND OF FAIRIES

People of That English County Firmly Believe in Existence of the "Little People."

A Cornish handbook recently published mentions that there are five distinct varieties of fairies in Cornwall and enumerates them as follows: The "Small People," who were supposed to be the pre-Christian inhabitants; these are gradually fading away.

The "Spriggans," attached to cairns, cromlechs and other ancient monuments, with which it was unlucky to meddle.

The "Piskies," full of mischief and finding great joy in leading mortals astray.

The "Buccas," spirits of the mines, associated in local legend with men from the East, doomed to work underground until the Resurrection.

The "Brownies," kindly and good, the spirits of the household, ever ready to do what they could to assist mankind.

There are numerous legends of the adventures of mortals with these fairies and only a few years ago men returning from Redruth, Truro, Penzance and some other market town would turn their coats inside out before venturing to cross the wild moors or downs, in order to guard against being led away by the Piskies.

Once a miner, working in one of the levels, heard his name called distinctly. He was afraid to follow the voice and went on with his work. His name was called again and this time more vehemently. The miner threw down his hammer and went to investigate. Almost immediately a mass of rock fell on the spot where he had been working. The warning had saved his life.

The Buccas or Kneekers were so feared at one time that people who had to pass a disused mine after dark took special precautions to prevent their presence being known.

Variation in Opinion.
One woman was telling another about a birthday gift she had just given her husband, and how she had saved for weeks from her house money to get it. The other woman was shocked:

"Why, Nellie, how could you! I wouldn't dream of giving my husband a present out of his own money! I earned every cent for his Christmas gift, made kimono and dressing sacks for some friends.

And a man, who was near enough to overhear, said to his companion: "If I had a wife like that, I'd frame her."

"I wouldn't want her at any price. She's too good to be true. My old girl cheats me out of every cent she can lay her hands on. I'm used to it. It's one of the rules of the ring. Wouldn't want her to be different."

Which seems to show the variety of opinions—undoubtedly a wise dispensation of nature, since life would be somewhat monotonous if all of us were made in the same mold—like candles.—Washington Star.

New Ideas for the State.

It is reported that a play entitled, "The Island of Monkeys," in which the players are all to be dressed in the guise of various sorts of apes, is shortly to be produced in Milan, Italy. In view of Rostand's successful dramatization of the dwellers of a barnyard, one will wait until after the premiere to say that it can't be done. Then there was the opera "Wood Land," in which all the characters were birds. David Belasco's press department for some time nourished a rumor that the producer had in preparation a drama in which all the characters were insects. This manager secured very nearly as much publicity for this odd notion as William Gillette did for his persistently reported intention to play Hamlet. Dramatic editors in many cities devoted many columns to argument that the ideal impersonator of Sherlock Holmes would not make an even passable prince of Denmark.—Christian Science Monitor.

Business Girls Park High Shoes.

"Do you know the latest thing the girls are 'parking' in our office?" asked the office boy.

His mother, at home, couldn't guess.

"Their high shoes. The girls that live in the country have to wear high shoes to get through the snow and slush on the way to the train, but they can't afford to be seen in anything but low, French heeled pumps in town. It isn't being done. They bring in the pumps in a handbag without their mothers knowing it—I bet—and as soon as they take off their hats and coats off go the high shoes and on go the slippers. They have the glory of walking out at noon with their high shoes at 5 o'clock.—New York Sun.

Question of Jurisdiction.

Judge Solon Carter, of Superior court, recently was called on to hear the divorce case of George vs. Martha Washington. When the combatants for matrimonial freedom arrived, they were colored folks. Judge Carter, with his fine sense of humor glanced at the complaint, smiled at the attorney for the plaintiff, and said:

"George versus Martha Washington. I don't believe this court would have jurisdiction. Shouldn't this go to Virginia?"

George Washington looked up at the judge, shook his head negatively and exclaimed:

"No, Judge, not Virginia—she's from Indiana avenue!"—Indianapolis News.

COLLEGE AVE., M. E. CHURCH

Rev. J. Emmett Porter, Pastor.
9:30 Sunday School.
10:40 Morning worship. Theme: "A Memorial to Motherhood."
6:30 Epworth Leagues.
7:30 Evening Worship. Theme: "Putting God in His Place." Mid-week service, Thursday evening at 7:30.

A special service in honor of Motherhood is planned for the morning hour. We are making special arrangements to take care for about one hundred more people than the church usually seats. All who have asked for reservations must claim them not later than ten thirty o'clock, after which time all seats will be open.

Washington's Popularity.
It would have surprised General Washington, had he known how future generations were to prize even his smallest possession. A china plate which he used, and which was later in the collection of President Andrew Jackson, recently sold for $910 at an auction in New York city.

Swallowed Each Other.
A perfectly formed hard-shell crab about the size of the end of a person's thumb was found in an oyster shell. The crab had evidently been swallowed by the oyster, but presumably it proved too much for the oyster, as there was no oyster in the shell when it was opened.

One to Spare.
An old lady saw two boys fighting in the street. She went up to the bigger of the two, and cried: "You wicked boy, you will kill him." "I don't care," answered the boy. "I've got another at home."

Where Texas Draws the Line.
Personally we claim that women have a right to smoke if they want to, but we would hate to see a housewife making pies with a pipe in her mouth.—Galveston News.

Fighter Must Not Weaken.
This alone is thy concern, to fight manfully, and never, however manifold thy wounds, to lay down thine arms, or to take flight.—Lorenzo Scupoli.

Principal or Interest?

Which is more important, an investment bond or the attached interest coupon? On a $1,000 bond the difference between a 5 per cent and a 7 per cent rate is only $20 in a whole year's income.

Obviously the bond is the more important. Yet many purchasers sacrifice absolute safety of principal for a few dollars interest.

Fix your eyes on the bond—not the coupon.

We sell good bonds.
